DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1-4, 7 and 8 are objected to because of the following informalities:
The use of parenthetical statements "(including but not limited to 1a, 1b, 1c, 1d, 1e)".
These statements may be expressed as follows ", including (1a), (1b), (1c), (1d) and (1e),"
2. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Claims 1-16 are rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim(s) are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim(s) must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

4. Regarding claims 2, 13 and 14, the phrase "such as" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-16, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Te 6,571,666 in view of Hu 6,283,449.

Te discloses a hammer having: a handle, a hammerhead including an eye, a face and throat having a nail holder having numerous slots having magnets; and the handle is made from materials including wood, metal, fiberglass, rubber, plastic or man made material. Te does not specifically disclose the claw comprising a small claw and a large claw in addition thereto. Hu discloses a hammer wherein the claw comprises a small claw and a large claw in addition thereto so as to enhance the versatility of the tool when be used in tightly constrained spaces. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made the hammer of Te to have the claw comprising a small claw and a large claw in addition thereto as taught by Hu, so as to enhance the versatility of the tool when be used in tightly constrained spaces.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

US 83,897 issued to Zimmerman.
